Search the rural village area for these antelopes that roam freely. They are not found in the National Park. They generally live on open plains in herds of 15 to 20 animals with one dominant male. They are very fast. Speeds of more than 80 km/h (50 mph) have been recorded. Their chief predator was the now extinct Indian cheetah. They are now sometimes preyed upon by wolves and stray dogs. The diet of the blackbuck consists mostly of grasses. The maximum life span recorded is 16 years and the average is 12 years.
